It's Christmas

WITH SIRENS screaming and lights flashing, the bright red Campbell fire truck arrived, bearing Santa Claus and two elves.

It was the climax of the dedication ceremonies for the Campbell community Christmas tree.

The tree, at the corner of Campbell avenue and Winchester boulevard, is now adorned with hundreds of decorations handmade by local youngsters.

The dedication program featured the Dover school choir, directed by Diane Spectman, the Campbell high Buccaneer band, and the "Bonnie Rosetts" of Hazelwood school.

Bruce Stevenson, Rosemary school principal, was master of ceremonies. Campbell mayor Dean Chamberlin was guest speaker.

A representative from each of the 19 elementary schools hung an ornament on the giant tree.

Sponsored by the Civic Improvement commission, the project was directed by Phyllis Hofer.

YOUNGSTERS greeted Santa in a mob and received candy canes donated by the city. Afterwards, refreshments were served by the Campbell Women's Service club, assisted by Girl Scouts from Neighborhood 15.

Early Monday morning, passersby were startled by a lift truck, rescue squad unit and fire truck parked on the West Valley campus near the tree. Two men from PT&T worked to hang the long strings of ornaments, assisted by local firefighters.

Members of the decorations committee included chairman Pat Safford; Arlene Podgorsek, Madeline Rogers, Dorothy Diaz and Sally Howe, who also served as publicity chairman. Grace Hebard helped arrange for the outside assistance with the ornament hanging.

Bell Savings and Loan, which earlier planned to donate lights for the 80-foot tree, instead donated 60 fluorescent bells.

Ornaments donated by area youth which weren't used on the outdoor tree are part of the holiday decorations at the library.

The Christmas season in Campbell was kicked off in grand style last week at the dedication ceremonies of the Campbell Community Christmas tree. Trumpets blared, children marched and the choir sang. Pictured above was the Dover school choir all decked out for a frosty Christmas. (For the story and more pictures see pages 8 and 9.)

'Example of progress'

Ground broken at site of Campbell library

Some 40 people stood under rain-threatening skies last Thursday afternoon at the ground-breaking ceremonies for the new Campbell library on Central ave. across from City Hall.

Mayor Dean R. Chamberlin called the library, "an example of the progress which can be made when government agencies work together."

"I've been on the board for 13 years now," said Ralph Mehrkens, chairman of the Santa Clara County Board of Supervisors, "and about half of that time has been spent working on this library."

Mistress of Ceremonies for the event was Jeanette Watson, chairman of the Civic Improvement commission.

In attendance were city councilmen, City Manager Bob Stephens, County Librarian Barbara J. Campbell and Campbell regional librarian, Beverly Booth. Father Leonard W. Bose of St. Lucy's church gave the invocation.

After the brief ceremonies refreshments were served in the council chambers by the new Campbell Friends of the Library.

Samuelson announces candidacy for treasurer

Carl E. Samuelson, 31, of 2174 South Abbey lane, announced this week his candidacy for the office of City Treasurer. The election will be held March 5.

CARL E. SAMUELSON
Treasurer Candidate

Samuelson, who for the past nine years has held accounting and financial positions in large corporations, is currently the assistant controller for Koret of California, a manufacturer of women's apparel.

He holds a B.S. degree in business administration-accounting from Colorado State university and is currently working toward a MBA degree at Golden Gate University.

Currently a member of Campbell's planning commission, Samuelson has also served on the Citizens' Advisory Goals committee, is an active member in the Sierra club, and has been involved in local school activities.

The city treasurer's office is accountable to the public at large to insure the highest degree of care is exercised in the handling of public funds.

"I believe that my educational background and professional experience would serve me well as an independent and responsible treasurer for the City of Campbell," said Samuelson.

Mrs. Olds faces opposition in city treasurer election

As of press time this week, only one of the incumbents of the four city offices to be filled in the municipal election on March 5 faced opposition.

Carl E. Samuelson, 31, a member of the Planning commission, announced this week that he would seek the office of city treasurer held by Mrs. Velma Olds since 1958.

Mrs. Olds has filed for her fifth term.

City Clerk Dorothy Trevethan, who has been employed by the city since 1952 and was elected city clerk in 1954, has filed for her sixth term.

Both Councilmen Bill Podgorsek, 44, and Ralph Doetsch, Sr., 60, whose terms expire in April, announced they will seek re-election and filed nomination papers this week.

Doetsch, who was elected as a write-in candidate in 1962, will be seeking an unprecedented fourth term as councilman.

Podgorsek, who was top vote-getter in the 1970 city election, will be going for his second term as councilman.

City Clerk Trevethan has had no opposition in any of the five previous city elections in which she has been a candidate. However, to date there has always been competition in the city council races.

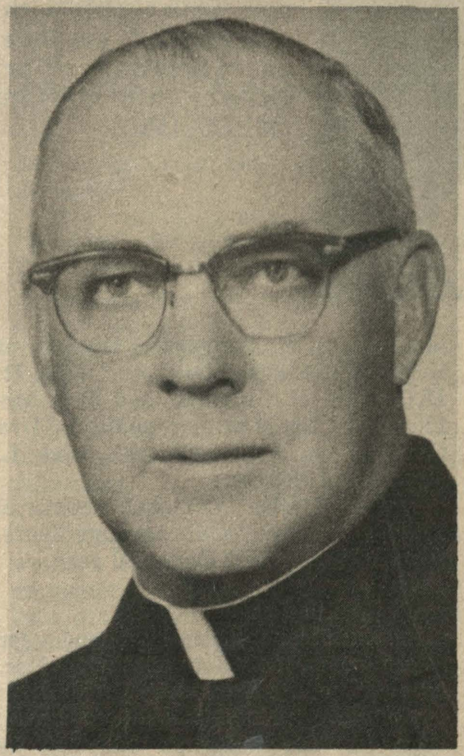
The annual message

Christmas lessons: ever new, renewing

(For the fifth successive year, the Christmas message in The Campbell Press is presented by the Rev. Leonard W. Bose, pastor of St. Lucy's Catholic church in Campbell.

Father Bose came to Campbell in 1969 as a successor to Father John Lally. Father Bose is only the third pastor in the history of the parish. Father Dennis Kennelly was the first pastor.)



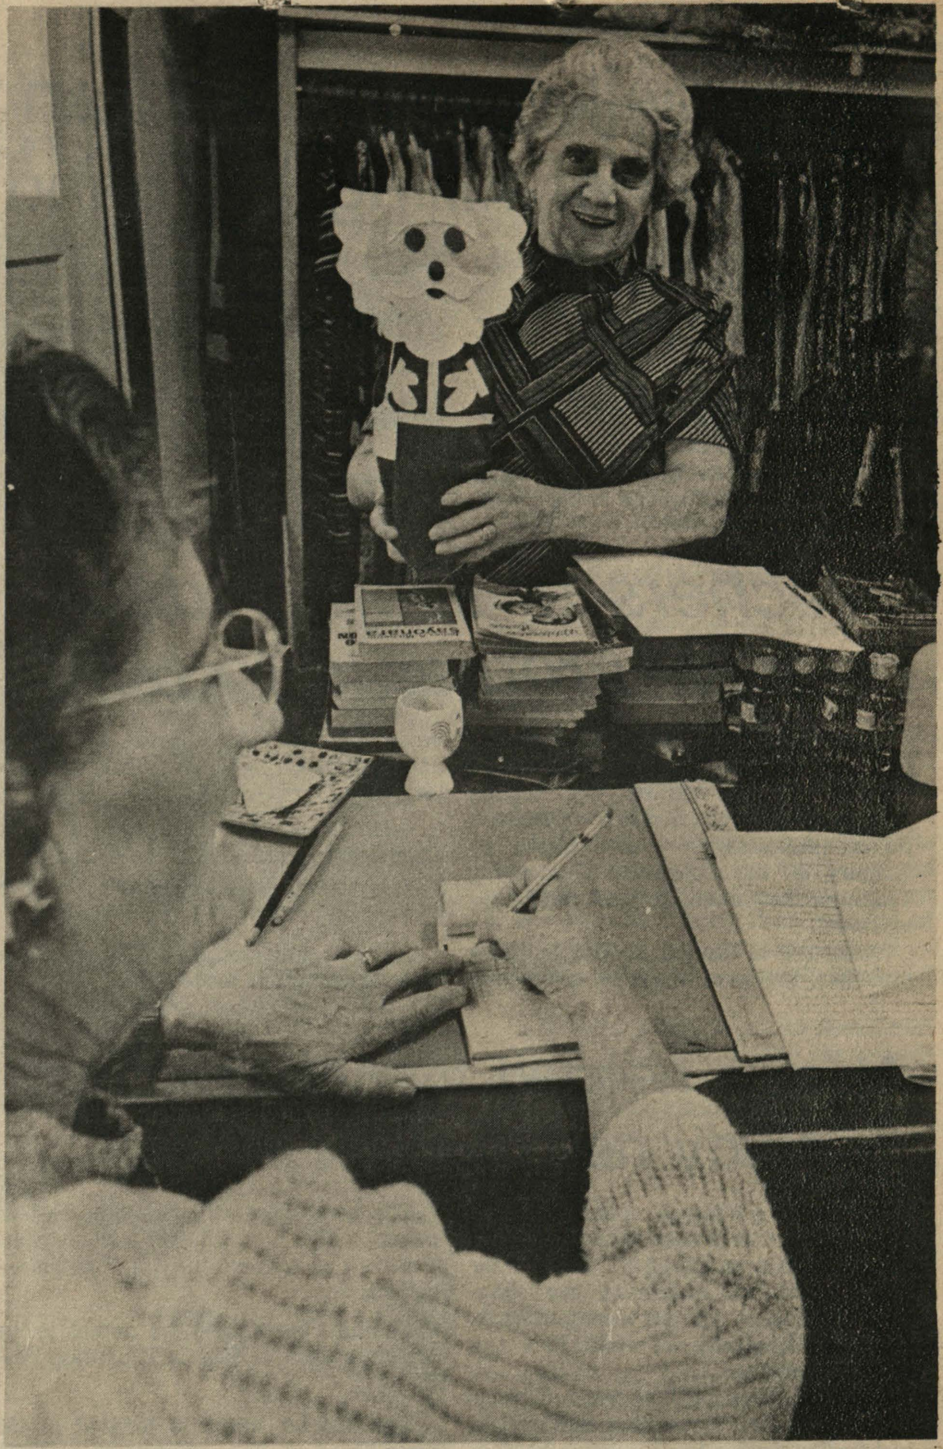
Rev. Leonard W. Bose

REV. LEONARD W. BOSE
St. Lucy's Catholic Church

Down through the ages the Birth of Christ has filled men with prayerful thoughts and reflections. The lessons of Christmas, though almost two thousand years old, are ever new and always renewing. Man continues to "discover" new meanings and deeper appreciation of the outpouring of God's Love for him. He finds that Christmas draws him closer not only to God and His only-begotten Son Who became man but also to his fellow-man.

For in becoming man, God gave human nature a new value and dignity. Henceforth men would see in everyman something of Christ, whether it be in the newborn babe, the man on-the-street, or anywhere else. Later on, when this Child had grown to manhood and begun to preach, He would explicitly identify Himself with all His fellow-men. "Whatever you do for these ..... you do for me."

Times changed but things do not. At the time of His Birth there was shortage of room and other material things — He had to be born in a Manger in some animal shelter — but there was no shortage of love and concern for His fellow-man, His brothers and sisters. Today, once again, we face shortages of material things, let us hope that there will never be a shortage of love, concern, compassion, justice and service to our fellow-man. The Star of Bethlehem will always lead us to an abundance, yea a super-abundance of these gifts from above.



CHRISTMAS GOODIES are on sale this week at the West Valley Progressive Seniors gift shop at 41 W. Rincon ave. Pictured above is Georgia Shephard ready to make a purchase while Beulah Hoskins writes up the order. The gift shop hours are 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. through this Saturday.

More landscaping

Planners approve new Chinese restaurant design

The Planning commission Monday night approved plans for a Chinese restaurant, estimated to cost $800,000 and located at 1815 S. Bascom ave.

The plans were modified since originally submitted last month. Changes in the plans include more landscaping, a reduction from 89 to 84 parking spaces and a five-foot shift in the building to allow for deeper setback from the front property line on Bascom.

Tracy Price, architect for the project, explained that it was development of the Pang family, headquartered in Hong Kong. He said the family in the past eight years had opened six restaurants in various locations overseas and planned to open five in the United States.

Price added that the design followed the temple motif prevalent in Taiwan and mainland China. The 9000 square feet of floor space will accommodate 300 diners. There will be banquet facilities for civic groups and several "VIP" rooms.

The architect said Campbell was selected as the site of the restaurant because of this city's central location and because Campbell is rapidly becoming the "restaurant capital" of Santa Clara county.

The commission also approved the zone change from R-1 to R-3-S for property at 146 and 164 Union ave. in order to be consistent with land use element of the general plan for the area.

The commission continued until Jan. 7 any action on the application of a mobile home park along Los Gatos creek to allow the parks and recreation commission time to study the proposal. A study session was scheduled for Dec. 27.

The commission approved the request of Dennis Bennett for a slight variance in the height of the sideyard fence at 847 Sunnypark court.

The commission approved changing the date of the planning commission meeting from the first and third Mondays each month to the first and third Thursdays.

Bob Stewart, vice-chairman during the past year, was nominated for chairman for 1974 and Myron Alexander was nominated as vice-chairman.

The election will be held at the next meeting, Monday, Jan. 7. The new meeting schedule will begin on Thursday, Jan. 24.

Want to 'share the holidays' with someone?

Local families who are willing to share their home for an evening during the holiday season with someone who would otherwise be alone this year are urged to contact the "Share the Holidays" committee.

The new program, started by a city councilman and six local clergymen, is a community-wide effort, according to Councilman Rusty Hammer.

Those interested in the program should contact Hammer at 247-5758 or the Campbell Chamber of Commerce, 378-6252.

The program is being coordinated by Hammer, Father Leonard Bose, St. Lucy's church; the Rev. Ben Gould, First Methodist church of Campbell; the Rev. Wayne Meyers, Campbell Congregational church; Rabbi David Robins, Temple Emanu-El; the Rev. Foster Shannon, Immanuel United Presbyterian church, and the Rev. Roland Wiederanders, Zion Lutheran church.

Shooting incident

Campbell woman held on charges of killing husband

A Campbell woman is being held at the Elmwood jail facility on a charge of homocide after a shooting incident last week in which she allegedly killed her husband.

Arrested by Sheriff's deputies was Mary E. McClendon, 27. Her husband, Raymond Lee McClendon, 32, was pronounced dead on arrival at a local hospital with a bullet wound in the chest. He died on his birthday, December 9.

According to police reports, the incident resulted from an argument earlier in the evening while the couple was away from home. When they returned the wife allegedly went into the house and returned with a hand gun. Officers found McClendon in front of his 1047 Erin Way home.

Teachers to submit ideas on new programs to board

A kindergarten-sixth grade counseling program, cost of living adjustments and a program for the gifted are among proposals to be submitted to the Campbell Union (elementary) school board in January by the Campbell Elementary Teachers association, it was announced last week.

According to Carroll Bergdahl, CETA president, the local teachers group surveyed their members during past weeks and compiled a list of proposals for negotiation.

Other proposals include prep time for all teachers, class size reductions, increased materials and supplies and new reading and remedial math programs.

To date, said Ms. Bergdahl, teachers have developed 46 proposals.

Names needed for citizen group to study need for tax election

Interested groups or individuals are invited to submit names to the Campbell elementary district Board of Education for consideration in selecting the nine-member Citizens Advisory committee to study the necessity of holding a tax election next year.

The group, which will be selected by the board at the Jan. 10 meeting, will initiate fact-finding studies to determine whether or not such an election is necessary.

The committee will be comprised of citizens only, and will not include staff members or representatives of employee organizations.

Deadline for submitting names to the Superintendent's office is Thursday, Dec. 20.

The district office is located at 155 North Third st. For information call 378-3405.

Library use fee rescinded

Area residents not within the city limits of Campbell can now use the local library facilities without paying the $10 yearly charge.

The out-of-city resident charge has been rescinded for 11 months on a trial basis by the Santa Clara Board of Supervisors.

The county libraries serve the residents of nine of the county's cities and the areas outside of any city. A special tax is collected from property owners in the library service area. For several years the county has charged residents of San Jose and other cities the $10 annual fee if they use the county library.

County Librarian Barbara Campbell and the County Library commission urged supervisors to rescind the charge.

Ebb Bohn

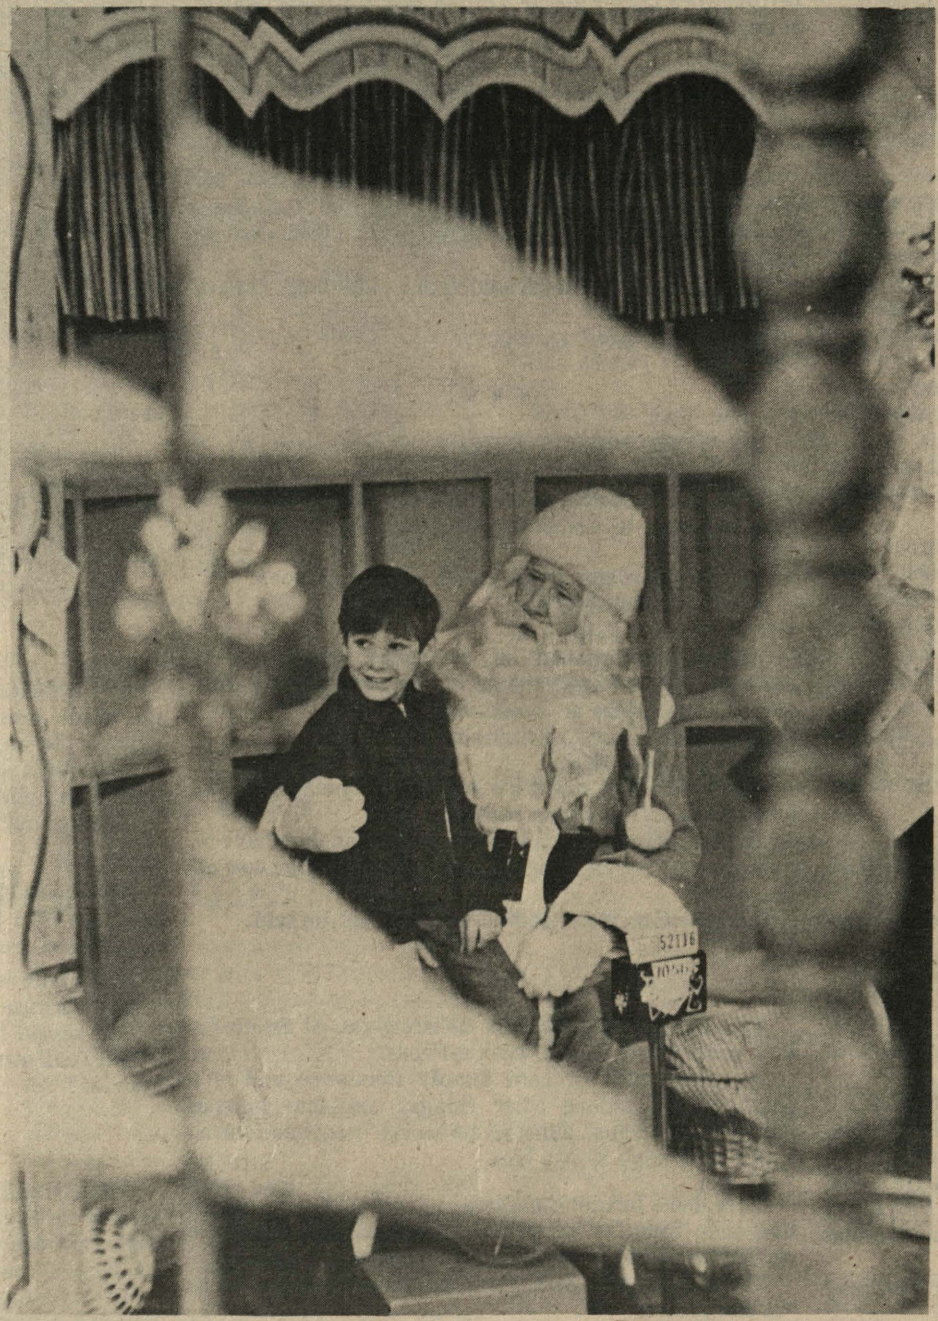
A day in the life of a Santa

By PAT SAFFORD

"SANTA, I LOVE YOU," the little tot whispered as she was lifted up onto his knee. "You know what I want for Christmas?" she questioned.

The scene is repeated frequently throughout the day of Santa Ebb Bohn, who works at the Emporium in Stevens Creek Plaza.

Later, sans whiskers and cap, Santa finished an Alka-Seltzer. He had a stomach ache.



Twenty years on the job as Santa, Ebb Bohn has a friendly chat with 5-year-old Robert Walker. The Cupertino man, recently installed as grand master of Orchard City Grange, is "on duty" at the Stevens Creek Plaza Emporium store in Santa Clara. During his 73 years, Bohn has had many roles, including the Cheery Farmer at the county fair and the Easter Bunny.

FOR 20 YEARS Bohn has been old Saint Nick and he likes the job. With seven children, 25 grandchildren, and 11 great-grandchildren, he's had plenty of practice. Each year the 73-year-old Cupertino man plays Santa to his own family. "The store lets me use the suit on Christmas Eve," he explained.

This year most boys are asking for "Evel Knievel" motorcycle race sets and girls want "Baby Alive" dolls. That's the doll that you can feed. . .and then have to change its diapers later," Bohn said. "When a little girl asked for it today, her mother leaned over and whispered, 'No way.' "

Other requests run the gamut from bikes and doll houses to baby sisters and mini-bikes.

"Last week a child asked me for fireworks," Bohn said, puzzled. Another encounter that bothers him was with a little girl who didn't want anything. When he asked why she replied, "I've got everything and I just want poor kids to have things."

But Bohn's most painful experience came several years ago in San Jose. When the youngster, a boy of 8 or 9, was asked what he'd like for Christmas, Santa received an angry retort. "What's the difference? You didn't bring me what I asked for last year anyway." With that, the boy gave Santa a hard kick in the shins and ran off, disappearing down one of the store aisles.

DOES BEING a Santa Claus have any other occupational hazards? "My knees get numb," Bohn said. When two youngsters come up to see Santa Bohn puts the biggest on his right knee (his strongest) and the smallest on his left.

At the local store, all Santas work in rotating shifts. Bohn works from 10:30 a.m. to 9 p.m. with two hours on and two hours off duty throughout the day. During his rest periods he retires to a dressing room where a couch, chairs, table and mirror are provided. The door to the dressing room, is emblazoned with a stage-like large blue foil star with Santa's name on it.

Bohn feels we should preserve the concept of Santa Claus. "The world is upset enough already," he said. "I want children to enjoy their belief as long as they can."

A lot of children come up and say "I don't believe in you," he said. "I always answer 'Don't you believe in God? Did you ever see Him?' How do we know there isn't a Santa at the North Pole?" Bohn never claims to be the santa. With so many Santas in other stores a child might get confused. "I say we're Santa's helpers," he explained.

Often a child will say he believes but his parents or grandparents don't. "I tell them 'Grandma looks for a present under the tree just like you, doesn't she'," Bohn grinned.

ALTHOUGH BOHN IS a resident of Cupertino he belongs to the Campbell Grange where he was recently installed as Master. During the ceremonies he quipped to one of the officers, "I bet this is the first time you installed a Santa Claus."

Santa is just one of nine "uniforms" Bohn has worn. The others included that of a soldier during World War I, a member of the Pennsylvania highway patrol, a "hillbilly" with the "Rocky Mountaineers", a cowboy with the "Sons of the Pioneers", and the "Cheery Farmer" for the Santa Clara county fair for 19 years. He's also worn the uniform of the American Legion, that of a correctional officer for the Santa Clara Sheriff's department and he's dressed up as the Easter bunny and a Genie (complete with lamp and a bright green hat and bloomers).

As one of the three original "Sons of the Pioneers," Bohn gave Roy Rogers his start in show business. "We ran an ad for talent in a local paper," Bohn said, and Leonard Slye (Roy Rogers) and Bob Nolan answered the ad. Roger, Nolan and Bohn were the founders of the famous group. Nolan wrote two of the all-time western favorites, "Tumbling Tumbleweed," and "Cool Water."

In his role as the Cheery Farmer of the county fair he has met four California governors: Earl Warren, Goodwin Knight, Edmund (Pat) Brown and an old friend from his show business days, Ronald Reagan. "My wife and I, the fair queen and princesses would visit the governor each year," he said,". bring them a basket of Santa Clara county fruit and extend an invitation for them to come to the fair."

A HEART ATTACK in 1956 slowed him down for awhile but he still has enough strength to handle a tough situation. Two years ago three youths in their teens tried to give him a bad time. "I heard one of them whisper 'If you want to pull his beard YOU do it."

There was a long line of parents and children waiting to see Santa, Bohn remembers. "Finally one of the boys came up to see me. I asked him what he wanted for Christmas."

With a gleam in his eye the youngster reached over to grab his beard but Santa caught his hands first.

"I laid him over my knee with my hand on top of him. I hit my hand with several loud slaps. It made quite a racket but I didn't touch him." The youth ran off in embarrassment and afterwards, according to Bohn, every mother and father who had witnessed the incident came up to congratulate him.

WHAT DOES SANTA want for Christmas? "Nothing," said Bohn, "everyone asks me that. I just want everyone to be happy." This year he'll finish his duties at the store on Dec. 21 to give him a chance to spend the holidays with his daughter, Pat, in Washington state. "She's been ill," he said.

Two little girls were waiting as Santa came back on duty. "My reindeer were very hungry," he explained. The older of the two, a girl of about six declared, "I want a little 10-speed," Santa looked up quickly to catch Mom's eye. She made a face and shook her head.

"Now Tammy," said Santa, "you're a little small for such a bike right now, but. . ."

TOO MUCH CHEER?

Too much Christmas cheer resulted in the arrest of a Los Gatos man last week on charges of hit and run and drunk driving, according to police reports.

The man is charged with hitting four cars and a fire hydrant before being apprehended as he tried to flee from the final collision at Campbell and Union avenues.

According to reports, the 28-year-old man left a Christmas party last Thursday evening and moments later police began receiving reports a car was driving erratically down Michael drive, smashing into parked vehicles. After each accident, witnesses said, the man backed up his car and drove off.

As police sped to the scene, witnesses say the man approached Campbell on Union avenue and his car slid across the intersection striking another auto which sustained moderate damage. The auto then started up again and backed into the Campbell Press truck. Campbell Publishing company general manager Brent Ulrich then pulled the suspect from his car as he tried to leave again and held him for Campbell officers.

Damage to the truck was minor while damage to one of the parked vehicles was major.

The suspect's car suffered "dents over the complete body" according to reports.

SCHOOLS HIT

Two Campbell elementary schools suffered losses or damage recently.

At Capri school a tape recorder, adding machine and audio visual unit were stolen. Total value was set at $414. The unit was later recovered in the lawn area nearby.

OUT ON THE LIMB

with George Vierhus

SOME TIME AGO we attempted to analyze the vote in the four cities in the west valley (Campbell, Los Gatos, Saratoga and Monte Sereno) to see if we could come up with some common denominator in the Nov. 6 balloting.

We only used the controversial proposition 1 (the tax relief measure) and the sports arena question for our "study."

The turnout of the vote was rather interesting in Los Gatos, Saraotga, and Campbell, all about 25,000 in population.

In Saratoga there were 8,840 votes cast. In Los Gatos the vote was 6,155 and Campbell brought up the rear with 4,348.

But that really was not what we were checking out.

Of the four west valley cities, only Campbell voted against proposition 1 (2,553 to 1,756). Saratoga favored the proposition 5,270 to 3,482; Los Gatos 3,065 to 3,033 (only 32 votes difference) and Monte Sereno was 559 to 413.

On the other hand, all four cities turned down the sports arena by approximately the same margin.

Naturally we haven't the slightest idea what we proved by our "analysis."

Other than all four cities are located in the west valley.

Whatever that means.

AS LONG AS WE were on this voting thing, the next step was to check the latest (Sept. 1973) report of registration for the state as compiled by the secretary of state.

The total registered in Campbell as of last September was 10,524 as compared to 10,247 in January. Los Gatos had 11,944 registered in September compared to 9,744 in January and Saratoga had 15,470 registered compared to 14,874.

Of the 10,524 registered in Campbell in September we note that 5,905 were Democrats and 3,726 Republicans compared to 5,730 Dems in January and 3667 Reps.

Registered in Campbell also in September were 40 for the American Independent party and 46 for the Peace and Freedom and 14 miscellaneous groupings. In addition there were 793 who "declined to state."

We know that all these voter registration figures make dull reading and don't prove anything.

The figures do show, however, that voter registration changes from election to election. We mean in addition to the changes brought about by population shifts.

Controversial issues make an impact on the registration and there are other factors that make voters change their parties.

There are those, of course, who never change their party affiliation, no matter what issues develop.

Some people, of course, are dropped from the rolls because they did not vote in a major election. They have to re-register.

We don't know what the percentage is but we would guess that quite often when a person re-registers he also changes his party.

And there are people who never vote!

Ralph Doetsch, who is filing for his fourth term on the city council, an unprecedented event for Campbell, reported to us that he had run across a local businessman who doesn't vote.

The guy told him, Ralph said, that he just didn't believe in it.

As the kids say, "oh wow!"

WE WERE PRETTY CHILLY the other morning.

But we weren't THAT cold.

We mean we looked up at the thermometer at the First National bank in Campbell Plaza and really started to shiver.

The thermometer registered a neat 31 degrees.

And that was at 10 a.m.

After we had thawed out, we called Pete Edwards, manager of the First National in the center, to see if he was in deep freeze or something.

Bankers, of course, at times have to be cold.

Otherwise they might get too soft in shelling out the green stuff to the wrong people.

But they don't want to be any colder than they have to.

Anyway Pete explained that the thermometer was off its rocker.

There was no freeze at the First National, he said.

CREDIT SHOULD HAVE BEEN given Al Smith for that cover photo in last week's Press.

Al, who heads Orchard Supply Hardware and is a railroad buff among other things, considers himself basically a rancher, although he hasn't "ranched" for as long as we have known him.

Al is also a former Campbell high school teacher and a long-time member of the Campbell Rotary club. He served as president of the club in 1966-67.

Incidentally, the Rotary bulletin lists his occupation as "prune grower."

But to get back to the cover picture.

The photograph was of the Sunsweet operation which is now being converted into "The Factory."

Smith guesses the photograph was taken about 1938. He found it while rummaging around at home, he said. He thinks he is about right on the date because he recalls that he was working for the dehydrator and in the packing shed for Sunsweet that year.

Unlike the "PruneYard" which replaced the orchard at Bascom and Campbell avenues, "The Factory" development retains the exterior appearance of the old Sunsweet operation.

But it is different inside.

That is for sure.

"POLICE REFUSE TO RIDE CARS"... That was the head on the AP wire news story that we had cut out and stuck in our files.

The item had a Campbell dateline.

Here is what it reported:

"Police officers in this community of 13,000 have refused to cruise the streets because they claim their cars are unsafe.

"Police Chief William Halase sent each shift of officers home without pay Tuesday after they arrived at work and refused to ride in the vehicles."

Hold it, Don.

Don't get excited.

That particular Campbell is located in Ohio.

SPEAKING OF CAMPBELL, we noted recently that the name was mispelled consistently in a claim filed against the city.

The claim described an alleged incident that involved Campbell police and was filed by an attorney.

Throughout the entire report "Campbell" was spelled "Cambell."

The misspelling was emphasized because the person who had filed the report apparently had discovered his mistake before filing the charges.

The name was used at least 10 times.

In each case, the letter "p" had been written in.

The moral here, of course, is pretty clear.

Why call attention to one's mistakes in such an obvious manner?

CAMPBELL'S COMMUNITY CHRISTMAS tree located on the lawn of the temporary campus of West Valley college was a joint effort of many groups with the schools, of course, playing a major role.

It was a highly successful project and Phyllis Hofer, Pat Safford and Sally Howe should be commended for coordinating the event that culminated with the dedication ceremony after the 80-foot high tree had been decorated with the ornaments made by local school children.

The community Christmas tree was sponsored by the Civic Improvement commission and the city council enthusiastically endorsed the idea.

Ironically, Campbell's first official Christmas tree (we think) will not have lights on it because of the energy crisis.

With a bunch of elementary grade school boys on hand for the dedication ceremony, the inevitable happened after the program.

A few of 'em climbed the tree without permission.

That escapade made some of the city and school officials cringe thinking about the liability if one of the kids toppled out of the tree.

The college is leasing the property from the elementary school district and the state.

The city was sponsoring the program.

Talk about your joint effort.

Litigation-wise, that is.

Campbell can take pride in Kelly, police department

The citizens of this community, as well as the official "city family", particularly Police Chief Don Burr, should take pardonable pride in the appointment of Police Captain Lawrence Roger Kelly as deputy police chief of the City of San Rafael in Marin county.

In January, Kelly becomes second in command of the 88-man San Rafael police force serving a city of 45,000 population, roughly twice the size of Campbell.

It is understood that the San Rafael position is an interim post because the present police chief is scheduled to retire next June.

By resolution the city council recently recognized Kelly's service to the community and its citizens calling attention to the invaluable aid and assistance Larry has rendered the citizens of all ages in the city during the 13½ years Kelly has been a member of the Campbell police department.

Kelly is highly thought of both in and out of the police department. His fellow officers, incidentally, are holding a testimonial dinner for him this evening.

Captain Kelly is only 34-years-old and came to Campbell as police officer in 1960 when he was 21 and had previously served in the U.S. Marines' elite presidential guard in Washington, D. C.

Kelly was promoted to sergeant in 1964 and to captain in 1968.

The Campbell police captain scored highest among 75 candidates who were competing for the San Rafael position.

We recognize that when Kelly assumes his new position in San Rafael, it will be difficult to fill the post in Campbell that he has so capably occupied for these past years.

We have great confidence in Chief Burr and the personnel of his department.

And as we congratulate Larry on his new appointment, we also commend the Campbell police department for having such outstanding people.

Del Mar senior wins county Junior Miss title

By COLLEEN ROONEY

EVERYTHING GREAT FOR "OUR TOWN"

The senior class play, 'Our Town,' by Thornton Wilder, was presented Nov. 29, 30 and December 1. The play was a success thanks to our directors, Mrs. Jaqui Aweau and Mrs. Beverly Hart. Stars of the play were Dan Anisman, the Stage Manager; Carol McClellan as Emily, Gary Moss as George, Matt Walter and Laura McEwan as Dr. and Mrs. Gibbs, and Sharon Holsinger and Jeff Watson as Mr. and Mrs. Webb. Lynne Tersini played the part of Wally.

Until the play, the senior class was short of money for the Senior Ball and Sneak Day, but with the $500 profit made on the play, they are doing rather well.

WINTER BALL

Del Mar's Winter Ball was held in the cafeteria last Friday, December 14. The band playing at the dance was 'Mosaic.' Everyone at the Winter Ball had a great evening, including the five Winter Queen candidates. These girls are seniors, including Cindy LaMar, Laura McEwan, Cathe Muzzio, Lynn Olavarri, and Abbie Western.

MISS JUNIOR MISS

Congratulations to Desiree Goyette for winning the title of Santa Clara County Miss Junior Miss. Desiree competed against several girls from all over the Santa Clara County. Besides this title, Desiree also won the award for Most Talented. She played the piano and sang.

Kristi Buckenmeyer, also a Del Mar senior, was second runner up and she also won the title for Most Scholastic Ability.

GO, SOCCER, GO

Both the Del Mar Varsity and Junior Varsity teams defeated Mount Pleasant in their first games of the year. Varsity won by a score of 2-1, with Keith Lundquist making both of the goals. The Junior Varsity defeated Mount Pleasant 6-0.

Varsity soccer also beat Fremont by a score of 2-0. Mark Zamzow made both of the goals in that game.

Campbell high to present music program for holidays

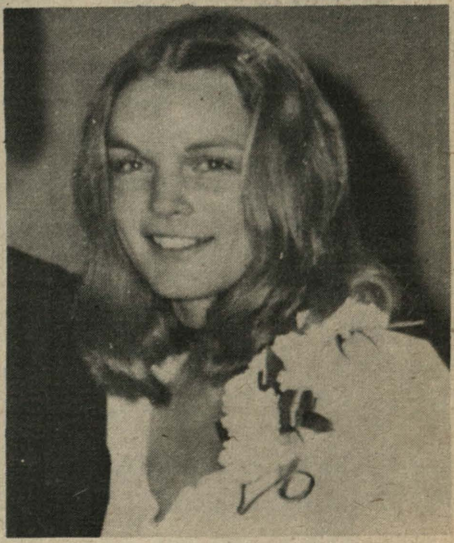
By BARBARA KUPBENS

On Dec. 13 Campbell high presented its annual Christmas program. Both the music and the drama departments participated in the Christmas program sponsored by the PTA.

The play was entitled "Our Miss Brooks and the Christmas Carol." The play showed how a teacher tried to produce a Christmas play, how she had to get her students interested. Mr. Hall's fifth period drama class were the actors and actresses for this Christmas special.

Here are some of their names: Karen Doss, Ann Kelly, Christa Skoff, Mark Nichols, Cedrick Jackson, Dave Herman, Pete Fair, Colleen Fitzpatrick, Dawn Engdahl, Debbie Fine and Karen Butterfield. Jody Tacchini was stage manager.

In addition to the Christmas play, the chorus and the orchestra, which are under the direction of Mr. Tarscao and Mr. Perkins, also performed last Thursday night.



CAMPBELL high school's Homecoming Queen for 1973 is Cindy McGuire.

CHRISTMAS PRESENTS for 20 youngsters of the Campbell Headstart program came early last week when the Kiwanis club of West Valley took them to the Westgate Shopping center for a new pair of shoes. Pictured above are teacher Betty Campbell, teachers aide Olga Foster and two of the youngsters, Mike Wilkins and Ronald Attaway. On Saturday, the Kiwanis hosted a group of 15 children from the center to a trip to Santa's Village in Scotts Valley.

The culmination: an adorned tree

Hanging ornaments for the tree dedication were student representatives from the 19 Campbell district schools.

Fire captain Bill Morgan offers Santa a helping hand as he arrives with a bag of goodies for children. Below, the "Bonnie Rosetts" perform in front of the tree.

EXCITING GRADUATION

Over 30 Baby Sitter seminar youngsters and their parents gathered for graduation exercises at the Sunnyoaks fire station recently and had an exciting evening.

During the hour-long ceremonies, two alarms came in. One was a rescue call and the other turned out to be an overcooked meal on a stove.

"DECK THE HALLS"

Over 200 local Girl Scouts appeared at the PruneYard last week to sing Christmas carols to holiday shoppers.

Originally set for earlier in the afternoon, the girls had to perform later. Something about a conflict with the Sugar Plum Fairy . . .

IT WOULDN'T DARE . . .

During the dedication ceremonies for the new Campbell library last Thursday afternoon, Jeanette Watson introduced the many dignitaries on hand for the big day. When she introduced Father Leonard Bose of St. Lucy's church she asked if he had a few words to say.

"I'm here," said the priest, looking into the cloudy sky, "to see that it doesn't rain."

It didn't.

HERE FROM NEW YORK

New owner of the Carousel One salon on Moorpark avenue is Darlene Maugen, trained in Canada, and most recently from New York City.

IF LOOKS COULD . . .

The Campbell Press is inaugurating a new feature this week, the Press Survey. Each week six local people are interviewed and asked the question of the week.

Our first question, "What do you like most about Campbell?" got some good responses but there were at least five other individuals who won't appear in the paper.

When asked the question they gave a puzzled look, shook their heads and didn't come up with a single thing.

Ebb Bohn sworn in as grange master

Ted M. (Ebb) Bohn was sworn in as Master of the Orchard City Grange at installation ceremonies held at the Grange hall recently.

State Master Chester Deaver of Sacramento served as installing officer. Other officers installed include: Dwight Sheffer, overseer; Irene Hood, assistant steward; Lucille Hoerler, lecturer; Andrew Sheffer, gatekeeper.

Other officers include: Alfreida Van Nattor, chaplain; Hazel Smith, secretary; Leslie Fairchild, treasurer; James Arnold, committeeman; Virginia Rutherford, musician; Lee Glick assistant steward; Irene Cunningham, ceres; Louise Fairchild, pomona and Ellen Lanphear, flora.

HAPPY HOLIDAYS

"WE WISH YOU A merry Christmas, we wish you a merry Christmas, we wish you a merry Christmas and a happy new year!"

Oh yeah, the sports staff is once again in the holiday spirit and it's time for me to hand out my annual Christmas greetings to members of the sports world.

Now everyone remember, 'tis the season to be jolly—try to remember that if one of my greetings disagrees with you!

TO CHARLES O. FINLEY OF THE OAKLAND A'S: A merry Christmas and a jolly ho-ho to Finley, the A's and old Charlie O; the owner's a man with whom few will fool, they wonder who has more sense—he or his mule!

TO DICK WILLIAMS, MANAGER OF THE OAKLAND A'S. . .NEW YORK YANKEES. . .A MAJOR LEAGUE MANAGER: Best wishes at Christmas and through the new year, after a ball season filled with great cheer; we respect your decision that you must go, but most of all, for standing up to big O!

TO THE FLY SWATTERS, A SOFTBALL TEAM I HAVE MANAGED AND PLAYED FOR OVER THE PAST SIX YEARS: We've won quite a lot in our years as a team, NorCal and eight league titles would make anyone beam; but at this festive time of great Christmas cheer, all I can think of is that post game beer!

TO GIGGLING TELEVISION SPORTSCASTERS: Wishes for a holiday season filled with great joy, go to men who use the TV mike as a toy; people watch your newscasts for results of sports capers, your silliness in reporting is just helping the papers!

TO GIRLS IN SPORTS: A happy yule wish to all female jocks, who work very hard and do get their knocks; girls strive for equality in the great world of sport, and have gone quite far, despite Margaret Court!

TO SAMUEL AYER BASKETBALL COACH STEVE CAIN: Over the years you've turned out strong squads despite the small players, small school, and all odds; your holiday riddle could have just one answer, a heavensent gift—a 6 foot 10 transfer!

TO THE FAST-TALKING, SMOOTH-TRADING SAN FRANCISCO GIANTS— This is the season, for sure, to be jolly, but baseball people are making trades, by golly; and not to be outdone by deals they've made in the past, the Giants are trying to trade their way to last. They've given up guys like Juan and Willie Mac, and in return have really gotten no one back; they're on a youth kick in SF, you see, their oldest regular now is good 'ol BB. Merry Christmas you Giants and we really believe, you've got more great trades for '74 up your sleeve; but if they resemble those made in past years, it might even drive old St. Nick to tears!

TO MY TRUSTY SIDEKICK DAVE MENDONCA: True wishes at this time go from me to you, for a merry Christmas and happy new year too; but never forget, no matter how friendly I may be, I'm still the boss and you the bossee!

TO MY PARENTS AND ALL MOMS AND DADS LOOKING FORWARD TO SEEING THEIR CHILDREN THROUGH THE HOLIDAY SEASON: It's not like it used to be when we were quite young, wide eyes waiting for Santa and stockings carefully hung; we drift apart for most of the year, but the true Christmas spirit really makes things clear. Love is the key for true holiday joy, no longer the commercialism of the Santa Claus toy; just being with you through the holiday season, makes life worth living —gives life a reason.

Mites, Squirts still dominate league

WITH EVERY PASSING week, the Squirts and Mites of the Santa Clara Valley hockey association just skate higher and higher into the lead in the northern California junior ice hockey league.

The Squirts and Mites both won in recent ice action to jump to 10-0 season records and maintain their unblemished season standings.

The Squirts topped Santa Rosa in a tight 5-3 battle for their 10th win. Greg Powers hit two and Scott Herbert, Joey Driscall and Dallas Denery each tallied one in the victory.

The five goals upped the Squirts season point output to 97 and they have allowed just nine goals against them.

THE MITES ALSO WON 5-3 in their toughest test of the 1973-74 season. The Mites were down 1-0 and 2-1 before deadlocking things at 2-2 in the second period. In the third they outscored Santa Rosa 3-1 to claim the victory.

Kevin Breault and Ricky Pitta each scored two and Bobby Newman got one in the win.

The Mites have now banged home 112 goals on the year and given up just seven.

The Pee Wees were the only other local winners that weekend, topping Belmont 2-1 on the Eastridge ice. Glen Caurfield and Rick Smithson scored in the win for the Pee Wees.

The win pushed the locals to an 8-3 record and into first place in the southern division of the NorCal standings. They had been tied with Belmont for first going into the game.

The Pee Wees now have scored 51 goals on the year and have given up 19.

THE BANTAMS fell 3-2 to Belmont. Steve Driscal and Randy Julian tallied the only Bantam goals.

Dick Fazzi scored the lone goal for the Midgets in their 9-1 loss to San Francisco. The Midgets have yet to win this season in the southern division of the league.

The Mites and Squirts are on the road to Marin Sunday for 4:50 p.m. and 6:05 p.m. games, respectively. The Midgets, Pee Wees and Bantams all are bye this week.

The Mites are the youngest of the hockey teams with players ranging from five to eight. The Squirt players are nine to 10, the Pee Wees 11-12, the Bantams 13-14 and the Midgets 15-16.

Vikes continue search for first win of season

VICTORY REMAINED elusive for the West Valley college basketball team last week, as the Vikes lost their eighth consecutive contest, dropping a 58-52 decision to Moorpark in the opening round of the Cabrillo Classic.

West Valley, the defending tournament champions, did play perhaps its best game of the year, however. The six point difference was the closest WVC has come to winning all season. Going into their game with Moorpark the Vikes had been losing by an average of 14 points per game.

"We're starting to come around now and we're showing signs of improvement," noted Viking head coach El Brown. "The kids are working hard and I have faith we're going to start winning."

After trailing at the half 31-25, the Vikings turned in their best second half performance of the year, matching Moorpark's 27 second half points.

Paul Arace, an ex-All-SUN guard from Del Mar high, copped game scoring honors with 20 points, the third time this season he has broken into the 20's.

SINCE THE San Jose city college game in which he failed to take a single shot all night, Arace has been averaging 15 points per game over a span of four games.

Mark Bonvechio, another ex-all-SUN player from Leigh, was the only other Viking in double figures with 12 points. The WVC blond bomber has averaged better than 13 points a game this season and is the Vike's leading scorer.

In other recent action, the Vikes dropped three contests to the College of San Mateo, Diablo Valley and Chabot.

Against CSM the Vikes trailed by just three points at the half, 32-29. But in the second half the Bulldogs steadily pulled away to an easy 73-59 triumph.

THE BRIGHTEST SPOT for the Vikings was the improved play of 6'8" freshman center Bill Becker (Wilcox). The Vike pivot man topped WVC in scoring with 14 points, hitting seven of 16 shots from the floor. He tied for team rebounding honors with forward Bonvechio, both cagers yanking down eight rebounds.

Bonvechio was the only other Viking cager in double figures, finishing the night with 11 points. Arace and Bill Magnuson (Blackford) both chipped in with eight. Magnuson also had six rebounds.

Craig Perkins (Saratoga) and Gene Mackey played well in the backcourt for West Valley, both cagers handing out four assists.

West Valley tied its single game high of 68 points against DVC but still dropped an 87-68 decision.

Three WVC cagers broke into double figures, marking the first time this season that happened. Perkins topped the losers with 15 points followed closely by Bonvechio with 13 and Arace with 12.

WEST VALLEY THEN suffered a 76-66 setback at the hands of Chabot last Saturday night at Chabot.

Arace enjoyed his best overall game of the season, netting 20 points, pulling down four rebounds and handing out a pair of assists.

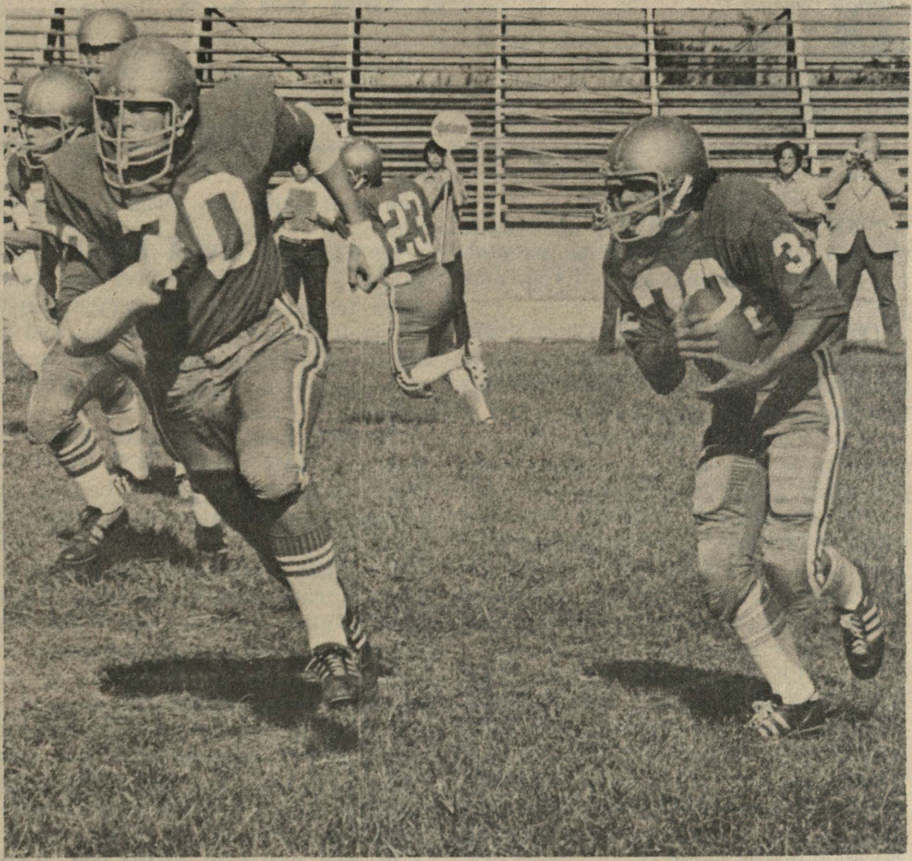
Bonvechio and Becker also finished in double figures, netting 14 and 12 points, respectively.

Although forward Bill Gerth (Westmont) tallied just two points, he was a bear on the boards, pulling down eight caroms, including seven on the defensive boards. He also had a pair of assists.

"We're finally settling down to a set starting line-up," said Brown. The Viking's starting line-up now consists of Arace and Mackey at the guard posts, Gerth and Bonvechio at the forward posts and Becker in the middle.

All-SUN 1973 football team

By DICK SPARKER
Sports Editor



LEAD BLOCKER — Prospect tackle Ross McCammon (70) leads halfback Jeff Freitas around end in WVAL action against Campbell. McCammon, an all-leaguer both ways, was named a first team tackle on the 1973 all-SUN-Press football team.

IT'S ALL OVER but the memories for high school football players in the area. in the area.

The football jerseys are headed for mothballs in the equipment locker; the helmets are getting a new coat of paint to erase a season of scars; the fields are undergoing resodding to ready them for 1974; and the cheerleaders and song girls have turned their attention to athletes in shorts on hardwood floors.

But before everyone forgets about the very successful 1973 grid wars, let's not forget to recognize the outstanding athletes of the season just completed.

The second annual all-SUN (POST-PRESS) football team has been picked by our sports staff from the 24 schools covered by the Milpitas POST, East San Jose SUN, Almaden Cambrian SUN, Downtown San Jose SUN, Campbell Press and South San Jose SUN.

THE SCHOOLS involved include Pioneer, Leland, San Jose, Willow Glen and Lincoln of the Santa Teresa athletic league, Campbell, Westmont, Prospect, Blackford, Camden, Del Mar, Leigh and Branham of the West Valley athletic league, Andrew Hill, Oak Grove, Milpitas, Samuel Ayer, Overfelt, Piedmont Hills, Mt. Pleasant, James Lick, Yerba Buena and Silver Creek of the Mt. Hamilton athletic league and Bellarmine of the West Catholic athletic league.

Players named to the first all-SUN team will get framed pictures of themselves with a plate commemorating the honor. Second team players will also get pictures of themselves in action.

COACH OF THE YEAR honors for 1973 go to Pioneer coach Jerry Method, it was announced by the SUN sports staff.

Method took his Pioneer Mustangs from an 0-6 last place finish in 1972 to a 6-0 league championship effort this past season. Method's Mustangs rolled up a 10-0 record before breaking their streak with a loss to Lick in the opening round of the Region III play-offs.

The SUN sports staff has gone against the all-league selections to find their most valuable player for 1973. The all-SUN MVP didn't win best player honors in any of the leagues mentioned.

Greg Fultcher of Oak Grove has been picked the SUN most valuable player for 1973 because of his work both ways for the MHAL second place Eagles.

Fultcher not only was a starting defensive end for the Eagles and led the club in tackles for the season, but also doubled as a running back. He gained 1,073 yards and rushed for a season average of 8.4 yards per carry. He scored 15 touchdowns and led OG to an 8-2 season.

FULTCHER, NICKNAMED "The Vulture" at OG, has been picked both ways to the all-SUN first team, one of only two players this year to accomplish such a feat.

Rick Foley of Leigh copped best back honors on the all-SUN squad. Foley shared his time between running back and wide receiver duties this season but picked up all-SUN plaudits as a pass catcher.

Foley caught 50 passes for 972 yards (19.4 yards per catch) and rushed 57 times for 731 yards (12.8 yards per carry), four times topping the 100 yard mark in five games as a halfback. The versatile athlete scored 15 touchdowns and a two point conversion for 92 points but also threw three passes, completing all three for two touchdowns and 152 yards (50.6 yards per completion) on the halfback pass play.

Teammate Jim Fuson, an all-SUN linebacker, was picked the area's top defensive player. Fuson averaged 15 tackles per game and broke the Leigh record for tackles in a single season with 146.

PASS PROTECTION — Protecting quarterback Mickey Plesha (12) is all-SUN-Press guard Ken Bondelie (64) of Del Mar. Bondelie was an all-league first teamer both offensively and defensively in the WVAL and made the all-SUN team as an offensive guard.

TONY SACLOLO, Lick's superstar, was tabbed the lineman of the year for making the all-SUN ranks as a first team guard and a first team linebacker—along with Fultcher the only players doubling on the SUN squad.

Saclolo is a quick, hard hitting football player who sparked Lick to a 9-0 MHAL season and an overall 10-2 year.

Topping the specialty team list is place kicker Mike Davids of Oak Grove. Davids booted 34 of 37 extra point kicks this year for the Eagles and added six field goals for 52 points to nab all-SUN most valuable specialty player plaudits.

Quarterback Dave Calderon of Lick is at the helm of the all-SUN football team. Fultcher is the first team's fullback with half backs Perry Lewis of Lick and Glen Cannon of Mt. Pleasant his running mates.

ALONG WITH FOLEY at the wide receiver post is Oak Grove's Billy Buss. The first team tight end is Pioneer's Jim Ogle.

Ross McCammon of Prospect and Brian Brickman of Lick are the all-SUN tackles and Saclolo and Ken Bondelie of Del Mar handle the guard posts. Leigh's Steve Leonard is the first team center.

Jeff Lyall of Leland, Lynn Potts of Pioneer and Pete Ruiz of Milpitas are the first team all-SUN defensive linemen and Fultcher and Ryan Wendell of Leigh are the first team ends.

Joining Fuson and Saclolo at the all-SUN linebacker spot is Mike Macias of Milpitas.

In the defensive backfield are Ken Brown of Willow Glen, Marty Maiers of Leigh, Steve Mills of Leland and Frank Sumner of Lick.

DAVIDS HEADS the specialty list. The top all-SUN punter is Mt. Pleasant's Dave Petty and the top kick returners are Tony Biondi of Lincoln and Phil Moore of Yerba Buena.

Ogle, Biondi and Lyall are returners to the first all-SUN team — all three making the '72 squad.

Jeff Beeson of Leigh heads the second team at quarterback with Dennis Davis of San Jose and Biondi the running backs and Keith Magee of Milpitas the fullback.

The second team wide receivers are Sumner of Lick and Randy Vosters of Pioneer and Tom Guardino of Campbell is the number two tight end.

Age group competition

800 compete in Camden swim meet

EVERYONE IS GETTING a little wet this winter, hopping through mud puddles trying to find their car in a parking lot or getting caught in the midst of a December thunder shower. But some are getting wetter than others.

A bunch of youngsters in the area have taken to the water for the summer months — swimming pool waters.

As a matter of fact, they've never quit. Youngsters of the area are still involved in age group swimming action.

More than 800 swimmers were involved in the Camden swim club hosted A-AA meet held in early December at the Camden high school pool.

Competitors from the area as well as Oregon and southern California were involved in the action.

Andy Maryatt of De Anza was the top swimmer on the day, copping top honors in the 50, 100 and 200 free, the 50 and 100 fly and the 100 and 200 individual medley events in the boy's 11-12 division.

VICKI DAVIDSON of Mt. Diablo's swim club was ranked as the top female swimmer, winning all of the events in the girl's eight and under class.

Santa Clara swim club girls Kelly Rowell, Theresa MacDonald and Connie Fenton topped the girl's 15-17 division.

The Almaden swim and racquet club logged a strong showing in the meet. Diann Christianson won the 11-12 girl's 50 back, nailed a second in the 100 IM and picked up thirds in the 100 free and 200 IM. Dan Miller won the boy's eight and under 100 IM and was second in the 50 fly and Dee Miller was second in the girl's 13-14 50 free. JIM BALLARD of Piedmont Hills won a trio of events, ending first in the boy's 15-17 100 fly, first in the 200 back and number one in fhte 100 back. Camden's Bob Jackson was second to Ballard in the 100 back.

Camden's Linda Janitsch snared a pair of runner-up spots in the girl's 11-12 class, finishing seconds in the 100 back and 100 fly events.

Laura Bertine of Piedmont Hills picked off a third in the 15-17 girl's 100 breast and Michael Berg of the West Valley Aquatic team was third in the boy's 10 and under 50 breast.

A week later the WVAT hosted a B meet at the Prospect high school pool.

Undefeated Wheeler gains tourney crown

By DAVE MENDONCA

VINCE LOMBARDI reportedly once said, "Winning isn't everything — it's the only thing!"

Whether the late, great Green Bay Packer coach said it or not, Jamie Wheeler (Campbell) has certainly taken those words to heart.

Wheeler, West Valley college's 118 pound grappler, remained undefeated recently at the De Anza Invitational by claiming his second individual tournament championship in as many weeks to lead the Vikings to a respectable team third.

The two squads ahead of West Valley were Golden Gate conference teams, Chabot and San Jose city college, coincidently the only two teams to have beaten West Valley so far this season.

The Vikings travel to Suisun City Thrusday for a 5 p.m. showdown with Solano. Friday West Valley will be in Concord for a 7 p.m. encounter with Diablo Valley.

WHEELER EXTENDED his personal winning streak to 11 consecutive matches at the DeAnza tourney by registering three wins in as many bouts.

The ex-Buc star, who only the week before had claimed the 118 title at the Skyline tourney, was voted the most outstanding wrestler of the tournament by the officials and coaches.

"He really deserved it," praised West Valley coach Jim Root.

Wheeler won his first match of the day by a fall in the third round. He then won his second bout 22-0 before copping the title with a 9-0 triumph in the finals.

Mike Silva (Branham) also fought his way into the finals but had to settle for a second when he lost an overtime bout 8-3. The match was tied 3-3 at the end of regulation time.

SILVA WON HIS first bout via a first round pin and the squeezed out a 7-4 decision in his semi-final match.

Heavyweight Harold Robertson (Del Mar) had to wrestle four times to bag a third. His only loss came in his second bout, dropping a 5-1 decision to the eventual heavyweight champ.

In his other three bouts, Robertson recorded 8-2, 6-4 and 7-3 victories.

Gary Russell (Leigh), 158, Bruce Lemos (Los Gatos), 126; and Tom O'Keefe (Branham), 162, all claimed fourths.

At the Sierra Invitational that half of the West Valley squad attended, Kevin Locke (Buchser), 158, was the only Viking placer, claiming a third.

THE VIKINGS opened their CNC season with a convincing 37-6 rout of Canada. WVC's only loss in the meet was a forfeit at 150, Mike Donecho (Campbell) forced to sit out his match due to an injured knee.

Lemos and Locke both registered pins to pace the Vikes to their easy win. Robertson recorded the only superior decision, thumping his foe 20-2.

Wheeler won his match by forfeit. His 11-0 record includes four superior decisions and two falls.

WVC honors top fall sports athletes

PRENT RIDLEY, West Valley college's impressive freshman defensive end, was named the second annual Craig Chelonis memorial award winner as the outstanding freshman football player last week at the annual fall sports banquet at West Valley.

Ridley will receive a $250 scholarship for earning this year's award. Mike Oliver was the recipient of the award last season.

The scholarship was named after Chelonis, who was to be the Viking's starting quarterback in 1970 before he was involved in a fatal car accident.

Steve Williams was named the ninth annual Tom Huelsman award winner as the Viking's outstanding lineman in 1973.

THE AWARD IS IN honor of Huelsman, the Viking's most valuable lineman in 1964 who died in an auto accident in 1965.

Other grid plaudits went to Rick Mallman, most valuable back, Buddy Rodriquez, most improved player, and Ken Padia, most inspirational player.

Matt Sommer was tabbed the most valuable runner for the Viking's cross country team. Sommer, just a freshman, went undefeated during the regular Camino Norte season this year and went on to win the CNC individual championship, place second in northern California and place third in the state.

Mike Morris earned most improved honors and Arturo Tello received the team captain award.

Rich Rutgers, who was instrumental in leading WVC to its first soccer championship, was named the most valuable player in that sport.

RUTGERS WAS THE Camino Norte conference's top goalie in 1973 an egistered three shut-outs on the season.

Co-team captain awards went to Casey High and Mario Lopez and the most assists award went to Denny Scott.

On the water-polo scene, Blake Hinman, who set a West Valley single season scoring record this year with 120 goals, was selected the most valuable offensive player.

Hinman, a former high school all-American from James Lick, earned honorable mention all-northern California plaudits recently.

Chris Hathaway, the Viking's excellent freshman goalie, was tabbed the most valuable defensive player.

Scorekeeping is automatic at SJ's Fourth Street Bowl

A revolutionary new automatic bowling scoring system has been installed for use on all 32 lanes at Bridgeman's Fourth Street Bowl in San Jose.

The system records pinfalls and keeps score and almost instantaneously calculates individual and team scores, with handicaps.

Marv Bridgeman, owner of the bowl, said the Rapid Score system can be operated by any bowler, even a novice. Control panels on a low-profile scoring table permit the bowler to enter his name, blind scores and handicaps. Once he begins bowling, a sensor camera in the pin deck area scans the pinfall and instantly relays information to the system's computer.

In a fraction of a second, the score is displayed on a TV screen at the scoring table. A running team total also is automatically tabulated and displayed. When bowling is completed, printout sheets recording every frame are furnished as a permanent record.

The solid-state electronic system, operating independently of pinsetting equipment, was designed and built by RCA for Rapid Score.

"The reaction we've had so far has been incredible," Bridgeman said. "Leagues are going to like not having to struggle with scoring chores and bowling novices can concentrate more on their games and less on mastering complicated scoring methods.
